BACKGROUND

Operator AKA Brayden Cole Olson was the previous owner of a website known as Doxbin. Doxbin was a web platform for threat actors to post the private information of innocent people. Not only that, but the way he obtained the money to buy the website was via his involvement in extortion and ransomware with the notorious blackhat hacking group known as Scattered Spider. Brayden went from being a Zip's Drive-In worker to a threat actor online sitting in his parents house all day, everyday. We became aware that his family knew of his online criminal activities after some in person surveillance and noting that after him being notified of the investigation they all tried fleeing their current whereabouts.
